You have 2 choices to sign up for this training. One is as a professional working with the hospitality industry and the other is as a guest not working in the hospitality and visitor industry. The first is free, but you must fill out your qualifications. NHHA is a non profit to educate those working with the aloha industry. If you do not feel you qualify, it costs $30. These are usually tourists themselves or newcomers to Hawaii who want to learn about their home. If you have a GE licence and have sold to a tourist, benefit from the imagery or culture of Hawaii in the creation of your artwork, you should qualify for a free ticket. See below.
